

Senator Engle Seeks Help for Tuna Fleet

Senator Clair Engle (D-Calif.) is author of a new Senate bill designed to strengthen the hand of the State Department in negotiations with Ecuador over fishing rights of the San Diego-based tuna fleet.

Co-sponsors of the Engle bill are Senators Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.), chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee; Henry M. Jackson, (D-Wash.), and Vance Hartke (D-Ind.).

"I have introduced this bill because I think repeated harassment of our tuna fleet by Ecuador—they have seized our ships before—calls for a firm response from us," Senator Engle said.

June 5th the State Department announced that negotiators are being sent to Ecuador to seek both an agreement on the release of two tuna boats seized in late May and a long-term resolution of the dispute over fishing rights.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT followed Senator Engle's June 3rd request to President John F. Kennedy that he expedite U.S. intervention on behalf of the tuna fleet—a request in which he was joined by Senators Magnuson and Jackson and Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.).

"In the long run," Senator Engle said, "I believe that negotiations will resolve the problem. I don't want to see a return to 'gunboat diplomacy' where we send the Navy down there to escort our fishing fleet out of the Ecuadorian harbor."

The new Engle bill would authorize an embargo of Ecuador's fish exports in the event of future interference by that country with U.S. fishermen.

SENATOR ENGLE continued, "My bill would indicate that the United States will not tolerate the seizures of our tuna boats. It would set the tone for negotiations." Senator Engle's proposals were prompted by the recent action of the Ecuadorian Government in seizing the U.S. boats in waters off Ecuador which, according to international law, are open to all shermen.

Ecuador claims control of the sea up to 200 miles off its coast. The U.S. recognizes a three-mile limit only.

The two tuna boats were part of a fleet from San Diego numbering more than 20 ships. The other ships refused to leave and protested by staging what Senator Engle called a "maritime sitdown strike."

Two juveniles ran from a Torrance home which they had entered Monday night when the resident came home and surprised them.

Ray R. Arnett, 3317 Carson St., told police the juveniles had apparently just entered the house when he came home. As he entered the juveniles, both about 15 years old, ran out a side sliding door and jumped over a fence, Arnett said.

Entry was gained through the front door which was unlocked, police said. Nothing was taken from the home in the 9:30 p.m. incident.

IN OTHER entries, guns were reported stolen sometime between 8 a.m. Monday and midnight Monday from the home of Joseph Rodriguez, 4727 Spencer St. Entry was gained by ripping the screen off a window and crawling through.

Nothing was reported stolen from the home of Jo Mazza, 213 Camino De Las Colinas, Monday but the home was ransacked and the intruder, who used the bathroom, read books, drank a half quart of gin, a half quart of vermouth and apparently, by that time feeling in a gay mood, broke the cocktail glasses in the fireplace. The incident occurred sometime between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday.

DANIEL B. KIRKS of 22916 Cabrillo Ave. reported to police Monday the theft of the radio from his car while it was parked in front of his residence. The radio was valued at $35, he said.

Mrs. Maxine Culver of 16815 Elgar Ave. told police Monday afternoon that someone entered her house and stole paint, a screw driver, and a hammer with a total value of $30.
